Firemen Plan Three-Day Open House Program; Set Up Card Index System To Locate Fires

The Gettysburg fire department's special committee to arrange for an "open house" at the engine house on E. Middle street, met there Wednesday night, and decided on a three-day program which will include not only a demonstration of fire department equipment, but also a fire prevention program, and the setting up of a card index system to facilitate the location of fires when calls are received.

The "open house" will be held on Thursday and Friday, May 11 and 12, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., and on Saturday, May 13, from 1:30 to 5 p. m. and from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., the committee, headed by Walter B. Lane, decided Wednesday night.

The committee evolved a plan to send postal cards to every rural resident within the territory served by the Gettysburg fire department. One half of the card will be in the form of a questionnaire, to be torn off, filled out and returned to the fire company, giving the name, location of the property and other pertinent information to assist the firemen in immediately locating a fire and getting to it without loss of time.

Seek Detailed Data

Several times recently the fire department has been sent on "wild goose" chases wasting valuable time and covering many extra miles with the trucks because of inadequate or incorrect information given to the telephone operators regarding the location of the fire.

The committee said that the double postal cards would be placed in all rural mail boxes by the rural carriers, and farmers and others will be asked to fill out the forms and return them, so they may be filed for use when needed. Persons receiving the cards will be asked to give detailed information on getting to their homes, to avoid loss of time in the event of a fire.

Become Excited

The cards will be filed in the radio room at the engine house for quick reference in the event of a call. In calling for assistance from the firemen, many persons become excited and "hang up" their telephone receivers without giving proper information and directions, the committee said.

The United Telephone company operators who handle fire calls will be contacted and requested to get all the information possible on the exact location of the fire, it was also decided, although the committee pointed out that operators are doing all that is possible to cooperate under present conditions.

During the "open house" days at the engine house, the "location" cards will also be available for persons who did not receive them in (Please Turn to Page 3)

Commander M. B. Frazee, USN, commanding officer of the snorck submarine Greenfish and his crew have been commended by Rear Admiral H. H. Good, Commandant of the 13th Naval district, for the outstanding services rendered by his ship during its stay in Seattle this month.

The Greenfish left Pearl Harbor January 25 for a routine training cruise in the Puget Sound area and then overhaul at the Mare Island naval shipyard, Vallejo, California. While in Seattle the Greenfish played host to over 3,000 visitors in one day.

Concerning a guest cruise conducted by the Greenfish Admiral Good said in his letter to Commander Frazee "I have heard nothing but praise in the manner in which tours were conducted... and the guests made to feel at home."

Commander Frazee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray B. Frazee, Howard avenue, maintains his residence in Honolulu at 13 Tarawa Place, Little Makalapa, Pearl Harbor. Mrs. Frazee is the former Miss Bette Swope, daughter of Atty. and J. Donald Swope, West Broadway.

The guppy submarine will leave the Puget Sound area about March 20 for San Francisco and will return to Honolulu in early July.

Mr. Ward was a consultant for the Economic Cooperation Administration, Washington, D. C., last year and completed an economic survey of the iron and steel industry of Turkey and returned to the United States in December.

ASKS REPORTS ON PROGRESS OF R.C. CAMPAIGN

Richard E. Dreas, fund chairman for the current Adams county Red Cross finance drive today urged all district chairmen to contact their solicitors with reports on how the campaign has progressed so far.

The slightly less than $2,000 turned in to the campaign headquarters up to noon today represents but a portion of the money collected by the more than 300 solicitors so far, Dreas noted.

Prompt returns of money collected to the county office permits a better picture of the progress of the month-long campaign, Chairman Dreas noted, and also permits the county organization to assist where needed in weak spots in the county drive set-up.

A number of donations by businesses and organizations were announced today. They include Gettysburg Rotary club, $15; Biglerville American Legion Auxiliary, $250; John C. Lower company, $20; Gettysburg Ice and Storage, $15; Gettysburg Sewing company, $25; Adams county Farm Bureau, $5; Mitchell's restaurant, $5; Gettysburg Fire company, $25; Plaza-Sweetland, $10; Tot 'n Teen shop, $2; Bierer's Specialty shop, $5; Bender Funeral home, $15, and Gay's Jewelry store, $5.

Soroptimists Favor "Lincoln Circle"

Action of the Soroptimist club with regard to the re-naming of Center square here was incorrectly reported Wednesday.

Instead of favoring LINCOLN SQUARE as many other local organizations have done, the Soroptimists voted in favor of "Lincoln Circle."

The action came after considerable discussion. A spokesman for the organization explained that the members felt that "square" is a harsh sounding word and that "Lincoln Circle" is a "much more euphonious name."

The club members were generally agreed on the proposal to re-name Center square to honor the Civil War President.

Local Merchant Urges Lincoln Statue In LINCOLN SQUARE

12 Baltimore Street
Gettysburg, Penna.
March 15, 1950

To The Editor of The Gettysburg Times

Mr. Editor:

Now that within a few weeks LINCOLN SQUARE will have been officially christened by Borough Council, and a movement started, publicly by The Gettysburg Times only a few short months ago (last November), will have born fruit, I believe that still more and greater things can be done with our Square, and that not only our own citizens, but people far and wide interested in Lincoln will help commemorate the ever present cause of Freedom of which our Civil War President was a great leader.

I propose a bronze Lincoln statue for the center plot of Lincoln Square—a likeness of Lincoln, standing, facing South, holding in one hand a paper, presumably the notes for his "Gettysburg Address."

The flowers and shrubs in the center are fine but the human likeness would add much to its appreciation, and what better figure can we select than that of Lincoln, since thru his visit and speech here, our town has become known all over the civilized world.

In a way Lincoln belongs to Gettysburg, since the most decisive battle of the Civil War was at Gettysburg; Lincoln's hopes and prayers for the war to end were in a large measure answered here; he came here to dedicate a part of our soil so that future generations might view with warning the futility and sadness caused by armed conflict. What other community of six thousand people can equal history such as ours?

A Lincoln statue in Lincoln Square should be our next aim and success.

Yours respectfully,
Charles B. Bender

San Marino, which has been an independent republic for 1,649 years and is situated wholly within the boundaries of another nation (Italy), is the only country today that, along with the United States, celebrates Abraham Lincoln's birthday, according to Collier's magazine.

The March 5th issue of This Week magazine reports the following Lincoln yarn:

"Another of the inexhaustible supply of stories about Abraham Lincoln turned up last week. This one, new to us, concerns the time a Springfield neighbor saw Lincoln striding past her house with two of his boys, both wailing loudly. 'Why, Mr. Lincoln,' asked the neighbor, 'whatever is the matter with the boys?' 'Just what's the matter with the whole world,' Lincoln replied. 'I've got three walnuts and each wants two.'"

The following "Railroader's Prayer" is reprinted from the current edition of the Reading Railroad magazine:

OFFERS STONE AT COST FOR PEACE LIGHT

The Rockwood Alabama Stone company of Russellville, Ala., which supplied the stone for the Eternal Light Peace memorial here has offered to provide, at cost, replacement material for the limestone which is disintegrating, according to memorandum sent to the local National park office.

The memorandum, from Elbert Cox, acting regional director at Richmond, stated that A. Wylie McDougall, general sales manager for the Alabama company, had made that offer in a telephone conversation with Cox.

"We are most anxious to do everything we can to help in the restoration of this monument," McDougall said in a letter sent to E. M. Lisle, assistant regional director of the U. S. Department of the Interior at Richmond. McDougall enclosed with his letter a report made by John R. Smith, engineer for the company, following an inspection of the monument.

Inspects Memorial

"The writer inspected the stone-work on subject job on September 22," Smith wrote after his visit to the Peace Memorial here, "and found the main shaft and its base in excellent condition. The limestone base has a sub-base of granite. The shaft stones were light in color, but the base stones were quite dark, caused, no doubt by dirt washing down the shaft and settling on the wide base projection.

The front wall inscription stones were also sound, although discolored, but the pointing was in bad condition and had fallen out entirely in some places up to a distance of some 18 inches. New pointing would help stop the discoloration and unless something is done before winter sets in a number of these face stones will also be damaged by frost action.

"Approximately 75 per cent of the balance of the work, consisting of coping at grade and ashlar at side of the granite steps is disintegrated and beyond repair. In some cases the coping stones were chipped so badly that only 50 per cent of its original size remains.

Need Federal Funds

"In summing up, our stone stood up well where protected by granite base at grade and where the pointing was intact. In places where the designer employed our stone at the grade, the stone has naturally absorbed the ground moisture and intermittent freezing and thawing caused cracking and disintegration. In places where the pointing was poor, the stones were discolored."

Lisle wrote McDougall that "we are hoping to do this work sometime in the future, but cannot schedule it accurately. Our appropriations are dependent on Congress and we cannot accurately predict the availability of funds so as to give you definite information as to when we will proceed with the work."

Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the local national park, said that arrangements had been made with several companies for experiments in use of their products in preserving the monument. None of the preservatives tried on the memorial so far has proved very satisfactory, Coleman said.

Interchange Off Turnpike Is Approved

Harrisburg, March 16 (AP) —

Pennsylvania Turnpike commission decided today to construct an additional interchange on its eastern extension opening on Route 15, southeast of Mechanicsburg.

The action was announced by Gov. James H. Duff.

"One of the many great advantages of the turnpike is that it will make historical landmarks in Pennsylvania of national importance available to visitors from out of the state," the governor said. He added:

"The location of this interchange directly above Gettysburg will therefore make the Gettysburg battlefield area within the easy reach of the vast number of persons both within and out of Pennsylvania that desire to visit that area. Furthermore, this interchange will also make directly available a better route to Gettysburg and points south of it."

Duff said the decision to build the Route 15 interchange was reached, not only to make this historical Gettysburg area available, but also as a result of a report by both the consulting engineers and the traffic engineers which indicated its construction would be justifiable on the basis of the traffic count that will move in and out of the turnpike over this exchange.

The 100-mile eastern turnpike extension will extend from the present eastern toll road terminus near Carlisle to King of Prussia, just outside of Philadelphia.

TESTIMONY IS COMPLETED IN MURDER TRIAL

Lancaster, Pa., March 16 (AP)—Dr. Edward A. Strecker testified today he thought Edward L. Gibbs might kill again. But the Philadelphia psychiatrist said he couldn't be sure.

The Gibbs defense rested at 9:45 a. m. and when rebuttal and rebuttal testimony was completed about two hours later the court recessed until 1:30 p. m.

Defense Attorney N. Hensel Brown said his summation—first to be heard—will take about an hour. District Attorney John M. Rankin said his talk to the jury would take about the same time and added he thought Judge Joseph B. Wistler would take about two hours to charge the jury.

He indicated the panel would get the case by 5:30 p. m.

Gibbs is charged with murdering Marian Louise Baker, Franklin and Marshall college stenographer. The state has asked the death penalty. District Attorney John M. Rankin asked Dr. Strecker in cross-examination:

Might Kill Again
"Do you feel this defendant might kill again?"

Strecker replied, "I think it's possible that he might but I can't be sure."

The first new witness called today was Dr. Franch F. Friedlind of Pittman, N. J., Gibbs' home town.

Dr. Friedlind recalled a dinner table experienced at the Gibbs home on the evening of November 6, 1949. He said the conversation was about socialized medicine and government control.

During the discussion, "Edward hammered on the table, rattling the dishes and silverware," Dr. Friedlind said. The physician added that Gibbs was "speaking so fast and so loud" no one could understand him.

Rankin, on cross examination of Dr. Friedlind, asked, "And no one was disagreeing with him?" Dr. Friedlind answered, "No sir."

After Rankin had finished, the defense for the 25-year-old Franklin and Marshall college student announced its case was completed. Dr. Strecker first had testified yesterday and was recalled for cross-examination.

Say Gibbs Sane
Dr. Baldwin Keyes, prominent Philadelphia psychiatrist, called as a rebuttal witness by the Commonwealth, said that, in his opinion, Gibbs is legally sane.

"Is there any doubt about it?" Rankin asked Dr. Keyes.

"No doubt about it," he replied.

The district attorney then repeated the ruler test he applied yesterday. A ruler was stood on end on a table and Rankin asked Dr. Keyes where on the measuring stick he would place Gibbs if the top represented sanity and the bottom insanity.

"From the standpoint of responsibility, he (Gibbs) is at the top of the ruler intellectually and normally. He is somewhat below normal, about two inches from the top, in so far as emotional maturity is concerned," Dr. Keyes said. "He is unable to maintain disciplinary control over himself in the face of frustrations."

Asked by Rankin if Gibbs was suffering from a psychosis, Dr. Keyes replied: "There is no doubt he had no psychosis."

Rankin asked approximately the same questions yesterday of Dr. Strecker, who pointed to the mark six and one quarter inches from the bottom, slightly above the midway point between sanity and insanity. And Dr. Strecker testified Gibbs is "emotionally immature and a latent schizophrenic."

Gibbs insists he killed the pretty 21-year-old F. M. secretary on January 10 at a nearby petting hangout "on an impulse." Yesterday, he told a jury of five women and seven men that he didn't remember beating Miss Baker to death.

Truckload Of Cars Hits Parked Coupe

Damage totaling $1,085 was done Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock when a truck-trailer carrying new cars crashed into the left side of a 1949 coupe which was in the process of turning left on the highway into a service station on Lincolnway west, New Oxford.

Chief of Police Anton Maaske, New Oxford, who investigated, said the truck-trailer was operated by August Eledge, 27, of Green Ridge, Pa., who was driving for the New Car Carriers, Inc., of Chester. The coupe was driven by Maurice N. Herman, 34, of 330 Lincolnway west, New Oxford. Both vehicles were traveling west, according to the officer, when the truck struck the left side of the car as Herman turned toward the service station. The car was pinned against a light company pole.

Officer Maaske said damage to the car amounted to $1,000, and $85 to the truck. Damage to the pole was estimated at $50.

THREE OFFICERS ON MISSOURI TO FACE TRIAL

Norfolk, Va., March 16 (AP)—General courts martial were ordered today for the commanding officer, the operations officer and the navigator of the battleship Missouri as a result of the vessel's grounding in Chesapeake bay, January 17.

The officers to be tried are Capt. William D. Brown, of Frostproof, Fla., the Big Mo's skipper; Cmdr. John R. Millett, operations officer, and Lt.-Cmdr. Frank G. Morris, of New York, navigator.

The courts martial will be convened March 27 at the Norfolk Naval Base. The trials will begin at that time, naval spokesmen said, if the defendants are ready to proceed. All proceedings will be open to the public and the press.

The courts martial were ordered by Rear Adm. Allan E. Smith, commander of the cruise force of the Atlantic Fleet, after a review of the proceedings of the naval court of inquiry which investigated the grounding.

Smith's action was announced by Adm. William M. Fechteler, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet.

Fechteler said "the formal charges and specifications to be served upon these officers and upon which they will be tried, will not be made public prior to the convening of the respective courts. The individual officers concerned, however, may release the charges and specifications in their respective cases at their own discretion."

Fechteler said Smith did not consider the evidence against Lt. J. E. Carr, Norfolk, Va., combat operations officer of the Missouri, of sufficient gravity to warrant trial by court martial. However, Smith has addressed a letter of reprimand to Carr.

Brown, Millett, Morris and Carr were defendants before the court of inquiry, which heard a half hundred witnesses during 18 days of sessions between February 3 and February 28.

for the functioning of the army and air force reserves on a scale equal to that of the navy reserve.

Superior Training

Training in the army and air force reserves is not up to the standards of training in the navy reserve, the resolution pointed out, stating that, in the naval reserve, organization and planning are bringing excellent results.

The air reserve and army reserve are not getting maximum results for money spent, the group argued, pointing out that insufficient money is being spent on the reserve components to provide for effective training of the members. The naval reserve has developed an organization capable of giving training to its members on the latest phases of the navy's development, while the air force and army training is less effective, the group claimed.

Full cooperation in Armed Forces day activities in May was voted. The reserves hold a number of activities during the week ending May 29. A social program, possibly in the form of a military ball, will be one of the events scheduled, the reserve officers agreed.

BANKERS HEAR DR. H. D. HOOVER

Dr. Harvey D. Hoover of the Lutheran Theological seminary spoke to 36 representatives of the 14 member banks of the Adams County Bankers' association, Wednesday night, following the dinner meeting of the association at Banker's restaurant.

Presented by Paul L. Spangler, president of the association, Doctor Hoover spoke concerning the duties of a professor of practical theology. "The church is not here just to thrive," he told the gathering. "The church is here to serve. Let me remind you all that you are your church's representative, wherever you are. You are the church."

He enlarged his theme with discussion of the meanings of "The Pastoral Ministry," "Worship," "Church Administration," "Evangelism" and "The Ministry of the Country Church."

Edmund W. Thomas, president of the First National bank of Gettysburg, spoke briefly in outlining some points of Senate bill S2246, also known as the Middle Income Housing bill.

Mr. Spangler announced that the next meeting will be held Tuesday, April 18, instead of the third Wednesday, which is the regular meeting night.

Whatever the decision which parliament will take and for which it assumes, in conformity with the constitution, the entire and exclusive responsibility, I will bow to it," Leopold said in a statement released by his secretary, Jacques Pirenne, at a news conference.

WILL REBUILD RUINED CHURCH

Reconstruction of the Reformed Church of the Incarnation, Emmitsburg, destroyed by fire on February 26, will get under way late this week, or early next week, it was decided at a meeting of the congregation on Wednesday night in the church parsonage.

The walls of the church, left standing after the fire, can be utilized again, with some repairs, it was reported at the meeting, and work will proceed at once in putting on a new roof. Materials will be purchased, but much of the actual work will be done by members of the congregation. Among the latter are two building contractors.

The debris left by the fire has been removed and work on the roof can start immediately, it was reported. Funds are available from insurance and donations. The rebuilding of the interior will follow later.

The congregation plans to put a basement under the reconstructed edifice. To do this, underpinning will be placed under the old walls.

Rugs which are being made by several of the members were also displayed. Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess, after which the group enjoyed a television show. The next meeting will be held on March 28 at a place to be announced later.

STUDENT FROM

president and vice president were chosen delegates to the regional conference to be held at Hagerstown May 5 and 6.

The Fellowship committee was in charge of the program for the evening. The speaker was Miss Felicitas Taderas, a student from the Philippines attending the University of Maryland. She is aided by the AAUW fellowship fund which provides grants to women from other countries for study in the United States.

Miss Taderas voiced her appreciation for the assistance given her and what it will mean to her fellow countrymen on her return. In presenting her impressions and reactions to the United States as compared with her own country, the speaker deplored the lack of democracy in a country that boasts of its democratic principles.

She also said that "in the Philippines family ties are closer and divorce rarer than in the United States, probably because a woman's chief devotion is to her home and family." She said there are plenty of schools in the Philippines except in the mountain areas. As to Philippine independence, Miss Taderas said that she felt that it is not good for the masses or the total welfare of the country. Although her country is independent politically, it is still practicing American principles, which she said she feels is important for its good.

Miss Taderas before coming here to study, graduated from the Philippine university and was food demonstrator with the U. S. Bureau of Education in her country. She is preparing to do child welfare work in nutrition and general living standards upon her return. She and four brothers served their country during the struggle against Japan, her contribution being cooking for the underground forces. Members of her family were imprisoned, beaten, tortured and outraged.

"Hardships and suffering make a people more sympathetic toward others," she said.

Women Golfers Vie For Tourney Honors

Augusta, Ga., March 15 (AP)—A collection of 39 champions opened the first round of the Women's Titleholders' Tournament today and only three or four golfing names which count with the gallery were missing.

The four days the best in feminine golf will chase after the first 1950 crown among the big three of women's open tournaments — the titleholders, western open and national open.

Peggy Kirk, a long-legged, long-ball hitter from Findlay, Ohio, is defending her title. Other titleholder winners trying again are Babe Zaharias of Chicago, Patty Berg of Minneapolis, Louise Suggs of Carrollton, Ga., and Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta. Helen Hicks is the only former winner not playing.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, March 16 (AP)—Naturally St. John's U. would like to upset Bradley tonight and go on to win the N.I.T. basketball title, but otherwise the season can't end too soon for Coach Frank McGuire. . . . Frank also coaches the St. John's basketball team, NCAA eastern region champs last spring, and the season opens April 3. . . . If you notice a professional touch on the Navy football team next fall, it won't be because some of the boys made a touch. Coach Eddie Erdelatz, who came to Annapolis from the San Francisco 49ers, brought teammates Don Clark and Len Eshmont as his assistants and now he has Frankie Albert, 49er quarterback, helping with spring practice. . . . Maybe, after all, Army will show them this is '50.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

Jim Bredeweser, the shortstop from Southern California, is signed to a Birmingham contract but likely will be advanced to Kansas City because of his fine showing in the Yankee camp. . . . Come to think of it, in a few years the whole Yankee squad may deserve the tag the players have hung on Jackie and Koe Ann Jensen—The Campus Kids. . . . Marvin Jensen, manager of the young Utah heavyweight, Rex Layne, has some 600 mink on his ranch near Salt Lake City. His wife doesn't own a mink coat—which may prove something about the cost of feeding heavyweights. . . . Maryland's Duke Wyre, president of the Southern Conference Trainers' association, announces his trainers' clinic will be held at William and Mary in June. . . . Gravy-training will be mentioned only in jest.

When Art (Pappy) Lewis signed as football coach at West Virginia U., his first thought was to phone his family in Parkersburg, W. Va., and spread the news that Pappy was coming home from Mississippi. The voice that answered belonged to Lewis' seven-year-old son. . . . Pappy excitedly blurted: "I got the job." . . . In blase, seven-year-old tons came the reply: "Line or head coach?"

LITTLE BRAVES WIN

The Little Braves defeated the Pow Wows in a Recreation association sponsored basketball game on the high school floor Wednesday evening 22-21. Both teams are composed of girls from the seventh and eighth grades. The seniors lost to the out-of-school girls Recreation club 42-28 in the second game. J. A. Williams and M. Roddy were high scorers for the winners while J. Pow Wows led the losers.

State College, Pa., March 15 (AP)—The appointment of a new Nittany Lion football coach will be discussed at a meeting of Penn State's 13-Man Athletic Advisory board here Saturday. Dr. Carl P. MAHANAY CITY TOPS HAZLETON QUINTET 57-52

Harrisburg, March 16 (AP)—Mahanoy City and Swoyersville today joined 18 other Class A district finalists preparing for championship tilts this week-end in the PIAA cage playoffs.

The Mahanoy City Maroons, winners of the Black Diamond league, eliminated Hazleton's East Penn league champions last night, 57-52, at the Penn Palestra. The Maroons now face Allentown Saturday on the same court for the District 11 title.

Last year it was another underrated quintet—Whitehall's Zephyrs—which dumped both Allentown and Hazleton from the playoffs and went on to take the district crown.

Meanwhile, Swoyersville's Class B Sailors jumped into the "dark-horse" position for the Class A state championship by thumping Scranton Tech, Lackawanna league champion 62-41. The Sailors draw Plymouth's Wyoming Valley league title-holders Saturday night at Kingston for the District 2 title.

In other action last night, Kane's defending state champions in Class B annexed the District 9 title by edging East Brady, 51-49.

Cresson had a similar close call in downing Bellwood-Andis, 28-27, for the District 6 crown.

Kutztown snapped a Middletown 23-game winning streak by a single point—54-53—to move into the District 3 finals opposite Susquehanna township.

Only two games—both Class B district finals—are on tonight's schedule.

Ashley, defending Eastern Class B champion, meets Luzerne at Kingston for the District 2 title while Everett takes on Rockwood at Bedford with the District 5 crown hanging in the balance.

Here is the complete inter-district schedule for Class A and B as released by Edmund Wicht, executive director of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association:

Preliminary regional games, March 24—District 3 (Kutztown or Susquehanna Twp.) vs. Districts 1-11 winner; District 12 (Clarks Summit) vs. Districts 2-4 winner; District 6 (Cresson) vs. Districts 5-7 winner.

Final regional games, March 28—Districts 1-3-11 winner vs. Districts 2-4-12 winner; Districts 5-6-7 winner vs. Districts 9-10 winner.

Ralph Greenleaf, Billiard Ace, Dies

Philadelphia, March 16 (AP)—Ralph Greenleaf, one of the world's most colorful pocket billiards players, died yesterday shortly after he had been rushed to Hahnemann hospital.

The 50-year-old world champion died of an internal hemorrhage. His wife said he had been ill since Monday but had refused to cancel a scheduled appearance in New York last night.

Emerging from the town of Monmouth, Ill., as the "boy wonder of billiards" at the age of eight, Greenleaf competed in his first major tournament at the age of 16. Four years later he won his first world's pocket billiard title. In all, he won that crown 13 times and established many pocket billiard records.

Baseball Briefs

(By The Associated Press)

Phoenix, Ariz., March 16 (AP)—One of the New York Giants who think rightly of the current revamped team is hard-hitting Outfielder Bobby Thomson.

"After we hit all those home runs in 1947 and after seeing the Red Sox lose, though they seemed to have everything a club could possibly ask, I'm convinced that there is a certain intangible something needed to win," says Bobby. "Whatever it is, I have a hunch we have it around here."

Sarasota, Fla., March 16 (AP)

Charley Schanz, the former Philadelphia Phillies hurler seeking a Boston Red Sox berth, and Rookie Gordon Mueller were named by Manager Joe McCarthy today to make it two straight over the St. Louis Cardinals. The Soxers ran their Grapefruit league winning streak to four games by downing the Cards, 11-4, at St. Petersburg yesterday. Dave (Boo) Ferriss, the former Sox ace who suffered from arm trouble last season, set the Cards down with three hits in four innings.

Tucson, Ariz., March 16 (AP)—Cleveland's Indians, who sparked at defense last season, are having a bad case of fumble-itis in their exhibition contests.

The Tribesmen have made 14 errors in six exhibition games including two against the Oakland Oaks yesterday—one by Milt Nielsen and one by Mickey Vernon.

That's a far cry from the regular season last year, when Cleveland set a new major league record by committing only 103 errors in 154 games.

Robert Nelson Hooper rapidly is becoming the fair haired boy of the Philadelphia Athletics' pitching staff.

Hooper—rookie up from Buffalo—didn't hurt his chances of making the grade with the A's as he held the Brooklyn Dodgers hitless for three innings in an exhibition game yesterday.

Hooper started on the mound for the A's in the game won by the Mackmen 4-1. In his three-inning stint, Hooper struck out one, issued no walks, and allowed only one ball to be hit past the infield—a fly caught for an out.

What does Manager Eddie Sawyer think of his Philadelphia Phillies after their fourth straight defeat? "It'll do 'em a lot of good," philosophized the Phils' genial pilot yesterday after the game with the New York Yankees.

And any man who can feel that way after a 23-6 pasting cannot be looked upon as ready to throw in the sponge.

Sawyer said his boys will get rolling soon and still get their share of wins in the spring training games.

San Bernardino, Calif., March 16 (AP)—Bob Chesnes and Elmer Riddle drew the pitching assignment for the Pittsburgh Pirates today as they prepared to meet Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league.

Chesnes, who won only seven and lost 13 in his sophomore year last summer, is one of Manager Billy Meyer's biggest question marks. Chesnes has been given pretty much

SAW "FLYING SAUCER," SAYS W. VA. DOCTOR

St. Marys, Pa., March 16 (AP)—A West Virginia physician insisted today he saw a flying saucer.

Dr. Craig Hunter, 47, of Berkley Springs, technical director, for a medical supply firm, first told the story to a St. Marys newspaperman last night.

The physician said he debated with himself before telling the story but decided to do so because he heard the Air Force investigates such reports.

"I don't drink and I am in full possession of my faculties," Hunter declared.

Had Rotating Fins

Hunter was en route to St. Marys last night about 6:15 p. m., when he stopped because his auto lights were not working properly.

Not long afterward, he said, he heard a "hissing noise" and looked up to see a large object "which was dirty aluminum grey in appearance."

"It was going on a westerly direction at a low rate of speed," Hunter continued. "It was about 250 to 500 feet in the air. I observed it for about two minutes before it disappeared."

Hunter said the outer edge of the object "seemed to have fins which rotated as the center remained stationary."

a degree permitting the student to teach in the elementary grades. Last fall 190 entered the elementary teacher curriculum. Two years ago only 28 were taking that course. The additional enrollment will partially fill the tremendous need for elementary teachers in this area, Doctor Kriner said.

Record Enrollment

Wright said the current enrollment of the college is the "largest in its history" and predicted that the enrollment will remain at a high level for several years.

Other speakers included Prof. S. S. Shearer, head of the science department at the college, and Harper Wertz, formerly of East Berlin, now supervisor of student teachers at Shippensburg State Teachers. W. W. Eisenhart, Abbottstown, was introduced as the oldest graduate in point of service. He graduated from the school 53 years ago. Eisenhart and J. Floyd Slaybaugh, county superintendent of schools and also a graduate of Shippensburg, spoke briefly.

Charles Gentzler, who was chairman of the committee in charge of the event, also acted as master of ceremonies. Other members of the committee in charge included Francis Coulson, Garnet Shellhase, Lolita Charles, Sara Miller and Alma Miller. Mrs. Charles Gentzler led group singing. The invocation was pronounced by Assistant County Superintendent Raffensperger. About 90 attended the meeting.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Two Teachers Wed Saturday:
Charles I. Raffensperger, principal of the Biglerville schools, and Irma Kathryn Myers, a teacher in the Littlestown schools, were married Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Myers, East Berlin. The Rev. Paul Glatfelter, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, East Berlin, performed the ring ceremony.

They were attended by Miss Beulah Myers and Edgar Raffensperger.

Adams County in Beetle Area in Quarantine: Because of the spread of the Japanese beetle, the boundaries of the zone quarantined as a result of the vegetable pest have been extended westward in Pennsylvania for 1950 so as to include Adams and numerous other central Pennsylvania counties.

250 Rotarians at Inter-City Meeting Here: Wade Marr, past district governor of the 51st Rotary district, of North Carolina, put the finishing touches to the inter-city meeting of the Rotary clubs Monday night, in the Eddie Plank memorial Gymnasium with one of the finest and most impressive addresses ever delivered here. More than 200 Rotarians from neighboring clubs attended the meeting, served by ladies of the Presbyterian church.

Miss Marie Codori sang several selections, Miss Mary Ramer was the accompanist.

Dr. Hadwin Fischer was master of ceremonies. Harry Kimmey, of Westminster, was the song leader, and the Rev. Earl J. Bowman gave the invocation.

The Gettysburg college orchestra played throughout the dinner.

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson introduced Mr. Marr. John D. Lippy, president of the Gettysburg Rotary club, presided.

License Issued: A marriage license was issued at the office of W. A. Geiselman, clerk of the courts, Friday to Charles Lester McClellan and Grace Viola Warren, both of Fairfield.

Change of Residence: Benton Gilbert moved Thursday from the Kalkfleisch apartments to 301 Buford avenue.

Large Crowds at Department Store Sale on Saturday: Large crowds attended the opening day of the final closing out sale at the Gettysburg department store, Saturday. The sale is being conducted by Charles W. Gardner, trustee for the estate of the late J. Frank Hart, mail.

The crowds gathered at the store at eight o'clock in the morning and continued until closing time, at 10 o'clock.

Students Remember Prexy: Students at Gettysburg college staged a demonstration in Bruns Chapel after services Wednesday morning, observing the forty-eighth anniversary of Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson. Merrill C. Yost, president of the student body, made a brief address and presented Doctor Hanson with a box of cigars, from the students.

Lone Field-Goal Noses Maroons out of Interscholastic League Championship: A lone field goal in the last twenty seconds of the last game upset the entire Eastern Interscholastic League standing, pushed Gettysburg high school out of the top niche and was the indirect cause of slicing the Maroon and White Quintet to third then to be tied for that position. On the team were McCullough, Rogers, Flynn, Rummel, Kilmfelter, Weikert, Pitzer, Captain Warren, Wermick and Kitzmiller. Eugene Martin is the coach.

Pilot Charles Flies at Night: Paul D. Charles, chief pilot at the Gettysburg airport, gave local residents a thrill late Saturday night by flying over Gettysburg for almost half an hour. His plane was equipped with regulation lights required for night flying, and the field on Oak Ridge was specially illuminated to

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
Quality

William Hasditt was both artist and writer. His essays in his book "Table Talk" are most interesting and stimulating. I like his talks on art. Said he: "The Little in art begins with insignificant parts, with what does not tell in connection with other parts. The true artist will paint not material points, but Moral Qualities. In a word, wherever there is feeling or expression in a muscle or a vein, there is grandeur and refinement too."

The poet Pliny, in speaking of the artist Phidias, remarked that he showed "magnificence even in small things." We think most of Rodin in his great, heroic creations, but I have a small bronze by him that is hardly more than six or eight inches in height, yet it embodies all those fine touches that gave quality and power to his greater things.

One of my favorite short stories is that one by John Galsworthy called "Quality." It is the story of a man who made boots, but who made them so good that they lasted so long that the customers grew less and less. Others made boots cheaper but he never lowered the quality of leather, or the art and love that he put into his boots. So he finally starved to death. I would not say, however, that he was a failure. I would say that he was an immortal!

If we buy silver, all we do is to look for the name "Sterling," and that is enough to assure its quality. There are certain trade names that are worth more than all the physical assets of the business that created them. Quality and character go together. There is a manufacturer of watches who advertises one of its products as the most "honored" watch. That name has always intrigued me. Quality always honors any product.

The quality article is always the cheapest. Make no mistake about that. Not only does it last longer, but it gives double the satisfaction and pleasure of ownership as well. Why do people pay so lavishly for antiques? It is because makers and designers put quality into their work, as well as love and beauty. As the old German bootmaker in the Galsworthy story said, "Id is an Art." That is what is behind all quality.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Elaborate Courtesy."

Just Folks

INDIVIDUALITY
How strangely runs the life of man, With differences shown or hidden;
No two alike of all the clan With manners favored or forbidden!
Each in his own decisive way Some pleasure taking or refusing;
One holding he would go astray On paths that other men are choosing.

With difference of mood and whim To live the years are all created,
One man does what seems best to him, And for his act is loved or hated.
All other creatures live their days Alike when eating or when drinking,
But mortals go their separate ways, Their conduct fashioned by their thinking.

The lion as a lion preys On other creatures that are weaker,
But to the end a lion stays; Grows neither fiercer nor meeker.
But man some tempting lure may see, Chooses to scorn it or to take it;
And as he thinks his life can be What he has strength and will to make it.

A report on the Community Fund committee was presented by Harold M. Hoke on its proposed double-header basketball game scheduled for Thursday, March 23.

A triple-duty resuscitator oxygen equipment was displayed and demonstrated for the membership and Commander Rightnour reported that the need was great for such equipment for the post's ambulance service.

A motion was made that this be bought for $600. The vote of the group was unanimous.

It was moved that donations be given to all the drives. Quartermaster Norris made a motion that an anniversary party be held in April for its members and auxiliary.

District Commander Roy Gamber, of Westminster, was present at the meeting.

Emmitsburg Scouts To Go To Washington

Proves His Claim He Wasn't Drunk

Colwyn Bay, Wales, March 16 (AP)—August Dumout told police emphatically he was not drunk while driving his automobile.

To prove it, he got down on the floor of the station house, put a jar full of water on the back of his neck, picked up a coin in his teeth and arose without spilling a drop.

In court yesterday, he offered a repeat performance. But the magistrates were satisfied. They dismissed the charge.

"RED" STRIKE ENDS

Venice, Italy, March 16 (AP)—A communist-led general strike which spread from this city of canals to industrial suburbs and nine neighboring provinces ended today after halting normal business for 24 hours. The strike, called to protest the wounding of seven workers by police gunfire during a demonstration here Tuesday, even brought gondola traffic on the canals to a stop.

Submits High Bid For Park Concession

Harrisburg, March 16 (AP)—Robert C. Conners, St. Mary's, submitted an unofficial high bid of $800 to the State Department of Forests and Waters yesterday on the food and refreshments concession at the Parker dam state park, Clearfield county.

The term of the concession is for one season from May 1 to November 1, 1950. It permits the sale of food products, candy, souvenirs, tobacco and soft drinks.

Another bid of $20.50 was submitted on a similar concession at Log Cabin in Caledonia State park, Franklin county, by Arthur Bury, York.

Washington, March 16 (AP)—Senator Myers (D-Pa.) believes the nation should aim at constructing 1,500,000 new homes a year for the next 15 years. But to obtain that goal, he told the Senate yesterday, it will be necessary to make it possible for persons who can't afford today's prices to buy homes.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg—The junior choir of the Lutheran church met in the parish house on Tuesday to practice for the musical which they plan to present near Easter.

The Lutheran parish house was the scene of the meeting of the L-O-Y-A-L group of the Elias Lutheran church Tuesday evening with Dr. James Allison, president, in charge.

The meeting was opened by a short devotional period followed by a business meeting with Dr. Allison presiding. Final arrangements were made for a concession stand at the public sale at Detour, Md., of J. Adams which was held today.

At the next meeting in April the members plan to go bowling following the meeting.

The speaker for the meeting was Robert Thomas of Hanover. Mr. Thomas is a junior in the philosophy department of Gettysburg college. He is an active church member and the superintendent of the Trinity Lutheran Sunday school, Taneytown. Mr. Thomas spoke on CHEY (Christian Higher Education Year) program.

Entertainment and refreshments were handled by the members of the social committee.

The scholastic basketball tournament which was held Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at Mount St. Mary's college between Saint John's of Frederick, Saint John's of Westminster, Saint Mary's of Hagerstown, and Saint Joseph's high school of Emmitsburg, was won by Saint Mary's of Hagerstown. On Tuesday evening Westminster and Frederick were eliminated and Wednesday night Saint Mary's won from Emmitsburg and received the trophy.

Cooke Would Repeal Tax On Soft Drinks

Harrisburg, March 16 (AP)—Jay Cooke, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, says he favors repeal of Pennsylvania's soft drink tax.

Cooke also told reporters yesterday he also favors "reducing the overall tax burden" on manufacturing industries as a means of drawing new enterprises to Pennsylvania.

Discussing taxes with newsmen, the candidate came out against "specialized taxes" and cited the 1947 soft drink levy as an example.

"Generally speaking it's unfortunate to limit taxes to certain things sold in the state," Cooke said. "It seems unfair to the producer, retailer, and consumer." However, Cooke parried a question as to whether his statement could be interpreted as supporting a general sales tax.

Washington, March 16 (AP)—Senator Francis J. Myers (D-Pa.) wants the Senate to investigate the nation's coal, gas, oil and electrical energy resources. In a resolution presented to the Senate yesterday Myers suggested that a $100,000 fund be established to finance the probe. Coal, he said, should not be considered as an isolated problem, adding any investigation should cover all fuel sources except atomic energy.

ASK 70 MILLION FOR TOP SECRET INSTALLATIONS

D. RUTH B. COWAN
Washington, March 16 (AP)—The House Armed Services committee today asked for about $70,000,000 worth of highly secret military installations—described by the armed forces as "top secret"—to be built under new study on Capitol Hill today.

Many witnesses have told the House Armed Services committee that these projects should have "high priority." They are part of a $107,142,000 amendment to the defense department's $77,974,000 public works bill which the committee previously had passed.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Charles McNinch (D-Cal.), authorized the McNinch amendment for $107,142,000, but the bill total is reduced for public works to $69,000,000.

Very "Hush-hush"
The McNinch amendment is for $247,000 for living quarters at Quantico, Va., and $25,000,000 for a depot in the East, probably to be located at Albany, Ga.

The classified secret installation requests are very hush-hush but they indicate intensified activity in radar, special weapons, guided missiles, biological and chemical warfare. Considerable attention is given to the defense of Alaska.

The largest single request is by the Navy. The Navy is asking $29,316,000 to develop naval facilities including housing, at a secret location "outside the continental United States."

The Army is requesting authorization for $8,000,000 to begin construction of a classified installation in the Sixth Army area, which has headquarters in San Francisco, Calif. No details were given in the brief announcement made public today, to say that an additional $2,500,000 will be required later to complete the installation. The Army described it as "of highest strategic importance."

"PUNCH-DRUNK" IS EXPLAINED

Pittsburgh, March 16 (AP)—What makes a boxer slap-happy?

Dr. Adrian Ver Brugghen, professor of neurological surgery at the University of Illinois, answered that question as a two-day session of the eastern section of the American College of Surgeons ended yesterday.

The punch-drunk pug gets that way because many small hemorrhages have been caused in his brain by blows. These leave scars and impair the intellect.

Children bumped on the head should be observed to see that all parts of their bodies can move and that they can use their eyes, Dr. Ver Brugghen said. Vomiting is a sign a child is returning to consciousness rather than a cause for alarm.

Dr. John H. Garlock, professor of surgery at Columbia University, said the best way to treat cancer of the stomach is to remove the whole stomach. Early diagnosis is necessary to insure success of the operation, he added.

SAYS U.S. MUST TAKE OFFENSIVE

St. Louis, March 16 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen says America must take up offensive strategy in the cold war. He declared last night that the United States, with a "defensive" foreign policy, is steadily losing ground to spreading communism.

The former Republican governor of Minnesota spoke before the John Marshall club, an organization of St. Louis Republican lawyers.

Stassen, now the president of the University of Pennsylvania, called for a presidential meeting with leaders of the Republican party and directors of the administration's foreign policy. He also called for a conference of world leaders—including Josef Stalin.

It is high time they (the American people) insist on a change in those policies and practices of their government which have contributed toward this tragic loss in the cold war," Stassen said.

CHURCH GETS $10,000

Philadelphia, March 16 (AP)—St. Paul's Reformed church of Amityville, Berks county, is to receive the more than $10,000 estate of Eli B. Rhoads under terms of his probated will. Rhoads, 65-year-old bachelor, died March 5. He had been a buyer for Penn Dry Goods company, for more than 19 years.

The Order of Elks, which was founded by 15 men, now has 1,533 lodges, all confined to the territory of the United States, with the exception of that in Manila which was continued by special dispensation after the Philippines received their independence. The Order devotes more than $6,000,000 annually to patriotic and benevolent purposes.

Woman Helpless To Aid Stricken Spouse

Philadelphia, March 16 (AP)—A 70-year-old woman, bedridden and unable to summon aid, lay helpless for 24 hours with her husband stretched out dead across the doorway to her room.

Mrs. Delade Jacoby screamed for help repeatedly, not knowing for certain whether her husband was dead.

It wasn't until a neighbor called by chance yesterday that the tragedy was finally discovered. The neighbor summoned police who took Mrs. Jacoby's husband, John, 74, to Hahnemann hospital. Doctors said he had been dead for more than 24 hours.

Detective Sgt. Allen Mitchell said Mrs. Jacoby had been ill for some time and that her husband had been caring for her. Early Tuesday, he collapsed as he entered her bedroom but she was unable to get out of bed to go to his aid.

"Con" Gives Tip On Break And Escapes

Eaton, O., March 16 (AP)—John Emerson Ballinger, 32, of Miami, a prisoner, gave Preble county officials a "hot tip" yesterday that there was going to be a break at the county jail. Then he proceeded to escape while officials were investigating his "information."

Ballinger was scheduled to leave for the Ohio penitentiary today to start serving a sentence for passing fraudulent checks.

COLD WEATHER HELPED OATS

Adams county may have a better than usual crop this year as a result of the cold period late in February.

County Agent M. T. Hartman and Assistant County Agent Ira N. Dunlap, noting that overwintering oats is best to crown rust, pointed out that the February cold snap seems to have killed most of the free oats grown this season. Mid-winters during the past several years which permitted the overwintering oats plants to carry the disease until it could infect the new crop the following spring, probably accounted for most of the severe loss to oats from crown rust during the past several years, Hartman said.

Another way crown rust survives is through the alternate host, Buckthorn, Hartman said. "This shrub is most common in central and northern parts of Pennsylvania. The eradication of Buckthorn, the county agent states, would reduce crown rust the same way the eradication of the barberry greatly reduced the loss from stem rust.

New Varieties Help
The introduction of such varieties as Clinton and Mohawk oats gave growers varieties that are resistant to the old forms of crown rust. However, a new form (race 45) of crown rust which can attack these new varieties started to increase and cause some loss.

Demonstrations conducted by the Agricultural Extension service during the past five or six years have shown that the Bond-related varieties, such as Advance, Andrew, Clinton (including Clinton II and Clinton 59), Hohawk and Zephyr, had only one-fourth as much crown rust as Richland and other varieties once grown in this state. Ajax, like Clinton, had less than one-third as much crown rust as the older varieties.

"All of the Bond-related varieties and Ajax are very resistant to blight, the disease which was so destructive to certain varieties like Vicland and Boone a few years ago."

Boy "Lawmakers" Visiting Capital

Pennsburg, March 16 (AP)—Pennsylvania lawmakers get a chance today to find out how the commonwealth's boys would run the state if they had a chance.

Some 300 high school boys from all parts of the state took over the Capitol legislative chambers for a two-day mock legislative session. The model General Assembly is sponsored by the state YMCA to give youths first hand experience in legislative procedure.

Led by Bay Governor Fred Chaffer, of Huntingdon, the boy lawmakers will act on 50 bills written by some 500 Hi-Y organizations throughout the commonwealth.

The bill cover such subjects as the establishment of recreation centers, loans to worthy high school students who want to continue their education, repeal of the soft drink tax, consolidation of smaller high schools, and a liquor control bill.

List Cases As Double Murder And Suicide

Gary, Ind., March 16 (AP)—The slaying of three men at a farm east of Gary was listed as a double murder and suicide today, but officers still were trying to fill in a murder of missing details.

Two fragmentary notes, one written partly in Russian, and a statement from a farmhand were all they had to work with. The motive still was not apparent, and the identity of the killer was not determined.

The dead were Paul Shuman, about 55, owner of the farm; his nephew, Ignace Gershenek, about 50, and a farmhand known only as Fred.

Deputy Coroner L. M. Friedrich said, "It looks like double murder and suicide." At first he had called the case a triple murder.

His daughter, Mrs. Elsie Homan, 48, is confined to the Reading hospital with second and third degree burns of the body and hands.

Mrs. Homan was burned yesterday while attempting to rescue her father from the blaze which firemen said was caused by the aged man smoking in bed. Flowers was bed-fast.

Chester, Pa., March 16 (AP)—Injuries suffered in a fall from a gangplank to a pier proved fatal to Elwood Ford, 53, of Coatesville, Pa., a fireman on the oil tanker Merchant Sun. Kansas City, March 16 (AP)—The little fellows still have a big chance as the National Intercollegiate (NAIB) Basketball Tournament moves into its quarter-final round tonight.

The two top seeded teams, defending Champion Hamline University and Westminster College of New Wilmington, Pa., got booted out in the second round yesterday.

ACHESON TALKS TO RANK AND FILE IN "RED" ASIA

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Secretary of State Acheson's major foreign policy speech before the Commonwealth club in San Francisco yesterday, promising non-communist Asiatic countries limited aid in their fight against "Soviet-Communist imperialism," took the unusual form of being directed to the grass-roots.

Acheson was speaking not only to the American people but apparently was reaching out in an effort to contact the rank-and-file of Asia's millions rather than restricting his remarks to governments. And President Truman en route to Florida on vacation, let it be known that he had read Acheson's address in advance and thought it "a fine speech."

America's assistance would cover military, financial and technical aid. It could be used only to "reinforce the efforts which others are prepared to make on their own behalf." That's a less blunt way of saying that Uncle Sam can only help those who help themselves.

A Filipp of Hope

Then Mr. Acheson gave a filipp of hope to the thousands of Americans who have been struggling with their income tax reports—and wondering where the money was coming from to meet the bills. He declared that U. S. aid "must be within the prudent capabilities of our own resources."

The Secretary stressed that the greatest threat to Asiatic progress and freedom is the attempted penetration "by Soviet-Communist imperialism and by the colonialism which it contains." He emphasized this thrust by declaring that communism is a "tool of Soviet imperialism" and perverts the real democratic revolution. The American people are the real leaders of a "revolution by the common people."

China naturally occupied a prominent part in the address.

Ready To Trade

Secretary Acheson said the United States was ready to trade with China on a fair basis. However, America wouldn't sell to the Chinese goods which could be used to harm her.

All these facts are useful for America to know. They will be treble useful if they can have any considerable distribution in China and neighboring countries. So far as China is concerned, the Chinese Communist regime, which controls most of the country, does everything possible to block distribution of such information.

However, an authoritative Chinese source in New York tells me that undoubtedly Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek will see that this speech gets a wide distribution on the mainland. He presumably will broadcast it from his headquarters on Taiwan (Formosa), and may supplement that by having it printed on leaflets which will be dropped by his planes at strategic points.

Police Race Owners For Slot Machines

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 16 (AP)—Police and distributors of slot machines raced each other up and down Wyoming Valley yesterday.

Flying squads of state police and Luzerne county officers hit 75 business places and seized slot machines, ball machines and a large quantity of money punch boards.

As soon as the distributors and owners of the machines heard about it, they tried to beat police to places where the machines were located.

Police visited eight towns—Shavertown, Courtland, Edwardsville, Larksville, Dupont, Avoca, Pringle and Kingston—and the Dupont and Luzerne-Dallas highways. Twelve of the 75 places visited by the officers yielded machines in operation. The law groups were led by Sheriff Sherrock and Detective Herbert Pecht of the state police.

Siamese Officials "Stumped" By Key

Bangkok, March 16 (AP)—The president of Philadelphia's Junior Chamber of Commerce has presented Siamese officials with a problem. Alva B. Adams, who has been representing the Pennsylvania city at a world Junior Chamber of Commerce conference in Manila yesterday, gave Lord Mayor Lusing Yuktia of Bangkok a 10-inch key to his hometown.

The gesture was much appreciated but the symbol is unknown in Siam. Today, Siamese officials are seeking advice on how to respond.

Deductions' Names Elude Taxpayers

Atlanta, March 16 (AP)—A flustered taxpayer, making his U. S. income returns on the last day deadline yesterday, was the father of seven children.

But he couldn't think of their names to claim exemptions for them. Finally, one of the 68 special agents assisting with the returns let him use his kids' nicknames.

Nor was this father alone in the deadline rush and confusion. Another late-comer wanted to claim his mother-in-law as an exemption, but couldn't remember her name.

The Ladies' Aid society of Bart's EUB church, Union township, will hold a monthly meeting Saturday at 7:30 p. m. in the social room of the church. The program will be in charge of Miss Janet Phillips and Mrs. Horace Schue.

There will be stations of the Cross and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. Friday in St. Albinus Catholic church.

Fourteen members were present for the monthly meeting of the Ever Willing Sunday school class of St. John's Lutheran church, held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Sterling Wisotzky, near town. A scripture lesson was read by the teacher, Mrs. Harry W. Badders, followed by the Lord's prayer in unison. A vocal duet was rendered by Bernice Yealy and Ruth Starry. Games were enjoyed with the prize awarded to Bernice Yealy. Guess packages were given out.

Both Barnes were received by Hope King. The next meeting of the group will be held Tuesday, April 11, at the home of Bernice Yealy, West King street.

A meeting of the Young Men's Bible class of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Frank E. Baschior, president, was held Tuesday evening in the social hall of the church. Guest speaker was Harvey W. Schwartz, teacher of the fifth grade, Littlestown public schools, and teacher of Philadelphia, March 16 (AP)—Backers of the Duff-Pine Republican primary slate have disclosed plans for a statewide drive to nominate "friendly" candidates for the legislature and party offices.

William J. Hamilton, Jr., of Philadelphia, state campaign manager for the Duff-Pine-Livengood group, announced that Kenneth P. Kressler, Northampton county chairman, has been named to head a "steering committee" for the ticket.

Harrisburg, March 16 (AP)—Pennsylvania's milk production continued to set new marks as the state Agriculture Department today reported another record for the month of February. The department listed the new mark as 447,000,000 pounds—nine per cent better than last year's previous high. However, the 28-day month resulted in production falling four per cent short of the January output.

Harrisburg, March 16 (AP)—Veterans missing in action prior to September 3, 1945, and subsequently reported dead qualify their beneficiary for the maximum $500 state bonus payment. This was announced today by Maj. Gen. Frank A. Weber, state adjutant general, and head of the state Bonus Bureau. Weber said the armed forces generally waited a year and a day during the last war before officially presuming a missing serviceman dead.

New York, March 16 (AP)—Two anti-trust judgments against "ASCAP"—the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers—have limited its music licensing practices and forced changes in its organizational setup. The decrees were signed in Federal Court on Tuesday, with ASCAP agreeing to terms drawn by the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice.

ACHESON WILL SPEAK ABOUT RUSS TENSIONS

Berkeley, Calif., March 16 (AP)—Fresh from a major San Francisco speech in which he raised a hand in warning to Communist China, Secretary of State Dean Acheson came here today to discuss "tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union."

Acheson, in his second important foreign policy address in northern California in two days, was to address the conference on International cooperation for world economic development at the University of California. The speech was scheduled for 11 a. m., PST (2 p. m., EST).

Before a Commonwealth club audience of 2,000 in San Francisco yesterday, Acheson warned leaders of Red China not to stir up trouble outside of China's borders.

"As old friends, we say to the Chinese people that we fully understand that their present unhappy status within the orbit of the Soviet Union is not the result of any choice on their own part, but has been forced upon them," the secretary said in a speech bearing the approval of President Truman.

"We understand that the Communist basis for their government is similarly not the result of any free choice of their own. We do not intend to tell them what ideologies or form of government they should have. We do not intend to engage in any aggressive adventure against them. The American people will remain in the future, as we have been in the past, the friends of the Chinese people."

"But they should understand that, whatever happens within their own country, they can only bring grave trouble on themselves and their friends, both in Asia and beyond, if they are led by their new rulers into aggressive or subversive adventures beyond their borders."

Acheson renewed administration pledges of limited aid—military, economic or technical—to Asiatic countries in the path of Communist aggression; he asserted that Russia seeks only to prevent for her own imperialistic purposes the changes sought by half the world's peoples; said Red China is an illustration of how Soviet imperialism can capture an independent movement; and pictured America as the real inspiration and leader of "the deep and revolutionary movement of the peoples of Asia."

Contracts Awarded On Housing Projects

Harrisburg, March 16 (AP)—Contracts on six projects under the $15,000,000 state subsidy housing program were awarded late yesterday by the Commonwealth.

The six projects include a total of 203 dwelling units in Pottstown, Bristol, Jeannette, Greensburg, Monaca and Aliquippa. Bids on these projects were opened here February 27 by the state Planning Board.

A board spokesman said the board was still studying bids on two other projects, opened on the same date, for New Castle and State College.

Under the housing subsidy plan, the Commonwealth calls for bids on the projects for a fixed rental. The builder offering to construct the projects for the smallest subsidy gets the contract.

Dorothy Kenyon (above) was named by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy March 8, as being "affiliated with at least 28 communist-front organizations." The Wisconsin Republican made the charge at the opening of a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee inquiry into his charges that a communist spy ring is operating in the State department.

NAME YENERALL IN SHOOTING

Waynesburg, March 16 (AP)—Lawrence T. Yenerall, coal mine mechanic, today awaited court action in the pistol death of J. Lee (Tucker) Armstrong, Jefferson township road-supervisor.

A coroner's jury last night found Yenerall shot Armstrong to death last Saturday. The jurors recommended Yenerall be held on a murder charge. He was remanded to Greene county jail without bond. Officers said the shooting grew out of a long feud over water rights and political issues.

John W. Haver, secretary of the Jefferson township board of supervisors, told the jury he witnessed the shooting.

Haver said he and Armstrong were talking in an automobile in Jefferson when Yenerall approached, opened the car door and, without saying a word, fired two shots in Armstrong's chest. Haver said Armstrong fell from the car after which Yenerall fired two more shots into the body.

Dr. C. Leonard O'Connell of Waynesburg, who performed an autopsy, said one of the shots in the chest would have caused death in less than two minutes.

SEEK TO CHECK STEADY RISE OF UNEMPLOYMENT

Washington, March 16 (AP)—Government economists showed concern today over how to clamp a lid on unemployment, now inching toward the five million mark.

By 1960, they said, the nation will have to provide jobs for some 70,000,000 workers, instead of the 60,000,000 considered the top goal for the immediate postwar era.

But the increase in the labor force apparently has brought no corresponding rise in job openings in recent months.

May Top 5 Million
Census takers counted 4,700,000 jobless on February 11. Statisticians say the number may pass the 5,000,000 point this year, for the first time since 1941.

Already a dozen areas have been stricken with unemployment described as equal to that of 1933. While most of these are scattered places with special problems, 43 areas are classed as having "substantial" surpluses in manpower—meaning that more than 12 per cent of their workers are walking the streets.

The 12 areas listed as hardest hit are Washington county, Me., Lawrence, Mass., Pottsville and Greensburg, Pa., Jasper, Ala., Clinton, Ind., Cairo, Crab Orchard, and Mount Vernon, Ill., Sheboygan and Muskegon, Mich., and Park City, Utah.

Ranks To Be Increased
Over the nation, 7.1 per cent of all workers covered by jobless insurance were listed as out of work in mid-February. That compares with the national average of 25 per cent unemployed in the worst year of the depression, 1933.

Another 1,750,000 college and high school graduates are expected to join the labor force this spring and summer. It will be a record influx, representing the biggest wave yet of war veterans whose entrance into

Organize Drive On Big-Time Gambling

Washington, March 16 (AP)—A rough draft of plans for a joint local and state federal crack-down on big-time gambling began to take shape today.

Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore called together his newly appointed Legislative committee of the Attorney General's conference on law enforcement for a two-day closed session at the Justice Department.

The get-together is expected to outline the area of cooperation in which law enforcement officers generally might function to curb crime.

The law enforcement conference, assembled here last month by Attorney General McGrath, indicated general agreement on a joint action program. It also indicated that first action should be directed against curbing organized gambling, which FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has described as the "nest egg" of the underworld.

FLOOD OF TAX MONEY FLOWS IN

Washington, March 16 (AP)—The federal government jingled several billion dollars in fresh spending money today as late check-laden returns trickled in from taxpayers across the nation.

One commentary on what yesterday's work force was put off for a four-year GI education.

To help relieve the pressure, the federal government is conducting a campaign to encourage private business to make more jobs.

day-income tax day—meant to most people was provided unwittingly by a late-payer who was in the line at the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Washington.

He left behind a laundry bundle, containing several of the shirts off his back.

Noting that even though billions richer, the government still is in the red, Republicans in Congress grasped at the chance to belabor the Truman administration and its financial policies. Democrats replied with reminiscences of the depression years.

In Detroit, what may have been the day's biggest tax payment—a $114,373,394 quarterly installment from General Motors corporation—showed up in the same mail what certainly was one of the smallest: Two cents.

And in a long list of cities the day marked the last chance the government had to catch up with 1943 tax fraud cases involving an estimated $15,000,000. At midnight last night, the seven-year statute of limitations went into effect, closing the books on any new action against those who evaded taxes during that war year of high profits.

Washington, March 16 (AP)—Rep. Fenton (R-Pa.) told Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., today that it will be cheaper to heat the new veterans hospital in Philadelphia with coal and urged a quick decision to that effect. Fenton, disagreeing with agency contentions that $15,000 a year would be saved by heating the hospital with oil, told Gray that figures provided by the Anthracite Institute of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., prove that it will be $4,171 a year cheaper to use hard coal.

Chapter 23

The Christmas tree was really large for the living room, the twins had picked it out as Roger said, a tree for two should be a very big tree and Santa Claus couldn't t all the presents under it. That pleased them, of course, and they had grown to love the tree in cause it stayed a full week in the back yard before it was brought on Christmas Eve to fulfill its duty. A little snow fell on it and she told them stories of how it had lived in a great forest in a pine and was a happy tree. The time before Christmas is a busy time everywhere, but especially in a house with children. Mary was mysterious in the kitchen, but part could lessen the fragrance of cooking and baking. She devoted now to retire after Christmas, this was to be her last fling, Roger came home with bundles that There had been no word from Celia in all this time. And now, on the night before Christmas, no presents had yet come, but Anne had a nervous feeling that something was going to come and that it wasn't going to make the big day easier or better.

She finished with the "snow" under the tree and stood up for a moment. Her father was in a big chair looking very Christmasy with a sprig of holly in his buttonhole. The twins were tying candy canes to the branches as finishing touches of brightness. One stood on a chair and the other on the floor. They clapped their hands happily.

"It's the most beautiful tree in the world, isn't it, Anne?"

"To us it is."

"And it likes us to decorate it, doesn't it?"

She grinned at them. "If I were a Christmas tree I know I should want to be decorated by two good little boys that I know."

They laughed, the light shining on their happy innocent faces. Roger cleared his throat.

"I agree with the boys. It is certainly the most beautiful tree I have ever seen."

"Did you have a tree like this before we came?"

"Not like this. Not ever."

Mary came in and joined the chorus of approval. They made her bend down to see where Santa Claus was to put all the presents. She winked at them.

They leaped on her to demonstrate how much they thought of her. Roger's hearty laugh filled the room. Anne joined in merrily. It took children to make a real Christmas, and sweet, kindly souls like Mary. She heard a noise but would have ignored it if Mary hadn't called for silence.

"Whist! It must be Santa Claus now. Out in the hall."

"No! No! He won't come till after we're in bed. He—"

The hall door was flung open. Tony and Celia pushed into the room, both in evening clothes. Celia's eyes were flashing and she was wearing a beautiful fur coat. She pointed a finger at the tree and cried out gaily:

"I told you what we'd find. What a swell advertising picture, as David would say. And the kids are hugging Mary!"

Mary stood up, glowering. "Do you have any objection to the kids hugging Mary when their mother has no time for them even on Christmas Eve?"

"Don't be so old and grouchy." Celia crouched down and flung wide her arms. "Come to Mother, darlings. Were you afraid Mother wasn't coming?"

They hung back, staring at her. Roger tried to cover up their obvious lack of enthusiasm by his own welcome.

"Come in. Sit down. We're crowded but it's Christmas Eve." He caught Tony's hand and shook it heartily. "Tony, you look grand. We read big things about you. You're making the old judges sit up and take notice."

"The old fools." He looked down at Celia and said mockingly. "You're not going over so hot with your first audience. Good we didn't bring the press agent along in person. Grab them and get it over with. Planes don't wait."

"I want them to come to me. I am their mother."

Anne smiled at the frightened boys. "Run to mother."

Celia flung her an angry look. "They would do it if you kept your two cents worth out. Come on, boys. Mother's Rob and Roy. Who can give Mother the biggest hug and kiss? One, two, three—

But they stood rooted to the floor, holding hands, as they always stood when they were united and thinking as one. Roger drew a deep breath, which was clearly audible in the silence. Mary whispered:

"Go to Mother. She has something for you."

Celia flung her a baleful glance. "It's easy to see how my poor unfortunate children are being trained here. They are to run to me because I am their mother. I don't have to bribe my own flesh and blood. Boys, come to me this instant."

Tears welled up in their eyes. Tony laughed mockingly. It was clear he had been treating himself well with drinks.

"Why don't you give up the whole idea? It's good publicity if it works and worse than lousy if it's going to flop like this."

Roger caught at one of his words, which he despised.

"What do you mean publicity?"

SOVIETRUSSIA WOULD SET UP 2 WORLD ZONES

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

They tell us we shouldn't look a gift-horse in the mouth, but that axiom certainly doesn't apply to horse swapping.

Moscow is said to be working on an amazing proposal. U. S. officials are said by James Reston, Washington correspondent of the New York Times, to believe Soviet Russia is making a new effort to arrange a deal with America to divide the world into spheres of influence.

Under this two-world arrangement, Western influence in the satellite states would be minimized or eliminated. The Western nations would adopt a hands-off policy for the whole communist world, including China and Yugoslavia, and do most of their business with the satellites through Moscow.

Need To Consolidate
Red officialdom has been emphasizing "that the worlds of capitalism and communism can live in peace on a non-intervention basis."

Well, that horse-swapping on an unprecedented scale. We get a better idea of just how big a deal it is when we check up on how much of the world has been brought under Red domination.

Soviet Russia, plus its satellites and China comprise roughly one-third of the globe's population, and about one-fourth of its land area. Some of this, of course, Russia is in process of trying to digest, and China is included in that category. However, those figures don't include the communist supporters and fifth-columnists who are working in non-communist countries.

Looking the Russian horse in the mouth we get the idea that Moscow has overrun about all the territory it can handle conveniently at this time. The Muscovites would be glad to see the cold war eased off a bit while they consolidate their gains and get organized for another offensive in due course.

Harrisburg, March 16 (AP)— Pennsylvania so far has received more surplus potatoes from the federal government than any other state. This was disclosed in figures released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. A total of 614,000 bushels of

Time Is Extended In Radio Dispute

Washington, March 16 (AP)—Additional time for filing data on competing radio applications for Allentown and Easton, Pa., has been granted by the Federal Communications Commission.

The FCC Tuesday extended to April 11 the time for filing amendments in the case. The commission last month ordered further hearings on the applications and allowed 20 days for filing amendments.

Involved are the Allentown Broadcasting Corp., and the Easton Publishing Co., and Associated Broadcasters, both of Easton.

In 1947 the Allentown corporation spuds, or more than 10 per cent of the nation's surplus stock, has been distributed in the commonwealth since the government began distributing surplus potatoes.

was awarded a permit to build WHOL, a new station. At the same time an application was denied the Easton Publishing Company. Radio Station WEST at Easton also was denied permission to change its frequency.

The court order sent the case back to FCC for further consideration. Meanwhile, WHOL has been permitted to remain in operation.

Reno, Nev., March 16 (AP)—Charges that Temple University kept a noted Philadelphia surgeon a virtual prisoner in his late years and gave him "exaggerated personal attention" in order to win his wealth were made by the man's daughter in a will contest action here. The action by Mrs. Janice Chase King of Silver Spring, Md., was filed Tuesday. Attorneys indicated it was the first legal step toward having set aside the $1,400,000 in gifts the surgeon, Dr. Theodore Chase, 84, to Temple.

Arrest Reports Are Nonsense, Says Bishop

Paris, March 16 (AP)—Bishop Gerold P. O'Hara, Papal Nuncio to Romania, said by telephone Wednesday from Bucharest that reports of his impending arrest are "all nonsense."

The bishop was commenting on a report by an American broadcasting company correspondent in Rome that said the Catholic prelate would be arrested soon by Communist Romania on spy charges.

Bishop O'Hara, who heads the diocese of Atlanta-Savannah, Georgia, in the United States, sounded cheerful as he said of the report: "Yes, I've already heard all about it. It's all nonsense. I was just out in the garden peacefully taking a breather when you telephoned."

OLEO MEASURE WILL REGULATE MANY PRACTICES

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 16 (AP)—If President Truman signs into law the bill which Congress just passed on oleomargarine, its effects will be felt in a lot of other fields besides margarine.

Under the bill the government removes certain restrictions on margarine but puts others on it. The Federal Trade Commission is given much of the job of seeing the restrictions are lived up to.

If any handler of oleomargarine violates the restrictions, comes into conflict with the FTC, and loses, he must stop. If he doesn't the bill sets up a penalty the government can impose on him, a fine. But—

This bill, although dealing primarily with margarine, also provides the exact same kind of penalty for people in other kinds of businesses policed by the FTC.

If they lose in a fight with FTC over government restrictions that apply to their kind of business and then continue to be violators, the penalty that applies to a margarine dealer applies to them.

Other Dealers Hit

Here are some examples of other kinds of business dealings, besides oleomargarine, where the FTC can step in:

False advertising—A firm falsely advertises that its toothpaste can cure certain kinds of sore gums.

Boycotting—A group of firms in an industry group up on some other member of it. For example: A dozen wholesalers agree among themselves not to handle the goods of a certain manufacturer because, besides selling to wholesalers, he's been selling to retailers, too.

Commercial bribes—A paint manufacturer goes into a furniture plant and, instead of legitimately trying to persuade the head of the firm to use his paint, bribes the foreman to use it.

Full-Line Forcing—A manufacturer, call him Smith, tries to force a storekeeper to buy all Smith's products and none from anyone else.

This is the way the FTC goes through with a case that involves any of the examples given above as well as oleomargarine, since the new bill doesn't change the steps to be taken but only the penalty.

The FTC, checking on Jones' big electric sign, decides he is falsely advertising his produce. It asks him to stop.

He refuses. The FTC makes charges against him. A hearing is held. Then Jones and his attorneys can present his case.

If the FTC then decides he's all right and isn't falsely advertising, that ends it. But—if the FTC rules against him, he is given 60 days in which to change his sign to the truth or take it down.

If Jones still wants to fight, he can go into U. S. court. If the court rules in Jones' favor and against the FTC, that's the end of it. But—

If the court upholds the FTC, by ruling against Jones, the court then orders him to get rid of his false advertising. This is where the penalty comes in.

Under the present law, if Jones disobeys the final order to stop his misleading advertising, he can be fined up to $5,000.

For example: Say Jones continues to show his sign for 90 days after the court order to him to take it down. He can be fined up to, but no more than, $5,000, total. Or, one

Poland Withdraws From World Bank

Washington, March 16 (AP)—Poland withdrew from the World Bank yesterday with an angry charge that the 46-nation institution is under the thumb of the United States and "its imperialist policy." It also pulled out of the International Monetary fund.

In a communication to the bank, the communist-dominated Polish government cited the refusal of the bank to grant it a $200,000,000 loan.

It said the reason was Poland's rejection of "the so-called Marshall plan which had as its aim the subordination of Europe to the United States and the rebuilding of the war potential of Germany."

Camille Cull, managing director of the International Monetary fund, announced Poland's withdrawal from membership in it. He did not make public the letter of resignation but presumably it was along the same tenor as that given the bank.

That's the present law. But the bill, if it becomes the new law, sets up a lot stiffer penalty. For example: For every day he continues to violate the final order, Jones can be fined up to $5,000 a day. For example: Say he disobeyed for 90 days.

If he were fined $5,000 a day for every day of disobedience, his fine would be $450,000. Federal courts, not the FTC, will decide the size of fines.

(Note: The maximum fine under the bill is up to $5,000 per day. There's no minimum.)

PEOPLE MUST BE INFORMED IF DEMOCRACY WOULD SUCCEED

Washington, March 16 (AP)—Evidence keeps bobbing up to show that a lot of Americans don't keep themselves informed.

This is a weighty and the need of the rest of the people who want a better democracy. It plays into the hands of those who don't.

In a speech last night Gordon Dean, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission, spoke of a survey made by expert public pulse-takers.

He said the survey, made in December, three months after President Truman announced an atomic explosion in Russia, showed 23 per cent of the polled people hadn't heard of it.

This brings up the old question: How do you get a good democracy?

The ideal democracy is one in which everyone is completely informed on every issue and everyone of voting age votes directly on every issue and on every law that's proposed.

In such an ideal democracy there'd be no Congress. A Congress like ours would be unnecessary if everyone could vote directly on every issue.

KISS FOR BRIDE—A chimney sweep, broom over his shoulder, kisses Mrs. George Grainger Weston, the former Caroline Douglas-Scott-Montagu, after her wedding in London.

But our society is not the ideal democracy. It can't be. It's too complex, with all the different groups dependent on one another for production of clothes, food, light, housing and so on.

Not A Blank Check
Producing those different things and earning a living keep most people too busy to be completely informed on every issue and to vote on every one. So we elect a Congress to represent us and act for us.

This doesn't mean we give the 531 members of Congress a blank check to do anything they please for us, or to us. It doesn't mean that, having elected a Congress, we ourselves stop thinking and yield up all control over us to Congress.

We reserve the right to tell our congressmen what we feel on the issues that arise; to put pressure on them to vote the way we think they should; and to charge our congressman when we no longer believe he represents our views.

But to do those things intelligently, so that we will have a Congress acting most responsibly to the will of the people, means we have a responsibility and obligation to be informed on as many issues as possible.

Simple Common Sense
This is simple common sense and to the selfish interest of everyone since, in the end, a Congress most responsive to the will of the people can produce the kind of laws most near to everyone's desire.

And it is not unselfish in another way: An informed public opinion, acting on Congress, is the best safeguard against a special selfish interest working against the general welfare.

Granted this, then everyone—if for no other reason than his own self-interest—has an obligation to be as well-informed as possible in as wide a field as possible, because Congress cuts across many fields.

Some Won't Read or Listen
How do they get well-informed?

By reading newspapers, magazines, books, listening to the radio, watching television, discussing events.

In turn that imposes, say, on newspapers and radios an obligation of doing a good job of informing their readers and listeners. This is so, since it's to their own self-interest, or should be, to help create

DUFF COMMUTES ROBBER'S TERM

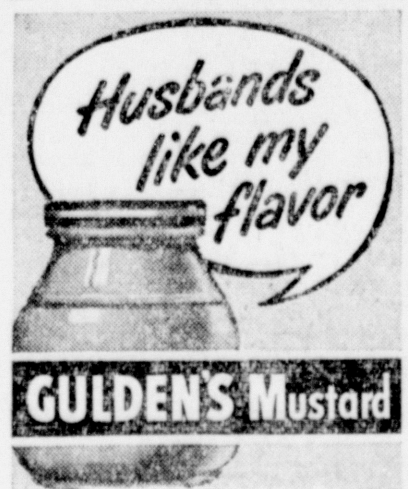

Harrisburg, Pa., March 15 (AP)—Eleven years ago, Judge T. Linus Hoban sentenced a 23-year-old youth to a prison term of 30 to 60 years. The youth, George Hreben, had been convicted of a series of robberies.

But Hreben bore no malice against the judge. He wrote the an intelligently-run democracy.

How well these sources of information do their job will vary, of course, from paper to paper and from radio to radio. But—no matter how well the information is pumped out, there'd still be people, and probably plenty of them, who wouldn't read or listen.

Scranton jurist and told him so. He sent him a model ship. And when Judge Hoban was reported missing in action in World War two, Hreben went to the prison chapel and prayed for him.

Now, at 33, Hreben was ready to be paroled from the Eastern State Penitentiary, his sentence commuted by Governor Duff.

The governor acted after Judge Hoban wrote him: "I had concluded that this man had deliberately embarked on a criminal career and ought to be put of circulation.

"It is apparent, however, that if a man of his age has actually completed a positive rehabilitation, he ought to be given a chance."

URNUMS MERIT WIDER USE
Recently a reader took the editor task for calling the so-called "Viburnums." He maintained that Viburnum was merely a high-brow name and that we should speak the common language by using the name snowball. In clarifying this matter we may gain better acquaintance with one of our most beautiful and useful genera of ornamental shrubs for general use in the home.

Viburnum is the proper name of the genus (group) of shrub-like plants, many of which are in for their attractive flowers. The long-popular Snowball is but member of this group, one species in other words. To call all Viburnums by the name of "Snowball" is to be similar to calling all the "Johns" because one of the (Johns) was truthfully named John. The common Snowball is properly listed as Viburnum opulus. It remained a consistent favorite American lawn for many decades because it is extremely hardy, resists deluges of white flowers, and in full bloom is a time in humanity in the north is just tinged into gardens and fields. Weather becomes mild and its truly is vanished.

But there are several other worthwhile species in this large genus. For example, Viburnum carlesii comes in bloom in late April and early May, bearing pink buds which open to white flowers. Many experienced gardeners believe V. carlesii, sometimes listed as Withe-rod, the best of all species. V. dentatum is called Arrowwood. It, too, is worthy member to grow. Some of the new 1950 catalogues are featuring what they claim is a "gardenia-like" species, listed as V. burkwoodii. The editor has not yet seen a specimen of this but judges from reports that it is well worth consideration.

Another species of Viburnum may be planted in late October or early November, although early March planting is widely and successfully practiced. However, the well-loved Japanese Snowball (V. plicatum) requires planting. Like most other deciduous shrubs, these should not be planted late, as summer heat and drought may take a heavy toll before the roots are sufficiently established to maintain top growth. Members of this genus like moist, drained, deeply mellow loams. Viburnum lantana survives in drier soil than any other species. V. fraxinifolia likes more room than any of the relatives. Full sun is advisable, bringing out the full merits of these plants. V. carlesii appreciates a location where it gains protection from prevailing winds in late winter.

HAVE PLAN ON BONUS-RELIEF

Harrisburg, March 16 (AP) — The Public Assistance Department felt confident today that it has worked out a plan to permit veterans to receive relief grants and the state bonus at the same time.

The problem of whether veterans should be cut off from relief grants because of the state bonus payment, which starts Friday, has stumped both state and federal officials for weeks. The stake in the argument was $50,000,000 annually the state receives from the federal government.

The new plan, in the form of a simple viburnum planting and care instructions on request to the editor.

revised assistance regulation was approved yesterday at a meeting of the state board of Public Assistance.

The new regulation provides that a one-time award, such as a soldiers' bonus for a heroic or meritorious act, shall not be construed as a resource or income which would exclude a person from receiving assistance from the state.

"We feel confident it will solve our troubles," said a board spokesman, who declined identity by name. He added the federal government has indicated it will approve the plan.
